Letter to Texas Animal Health Commission Critical of Enforcement of Eradication Program Work in State of Texas

Fort Worth, Apr. 20—Texas cattlemen are asking the state's consumers to join them in seeking passage of new state animal health laws to avert a threatened federal quarantine of the multibillion-dollar cattle industry, says Frates Seeligson, president of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association. The warning, from the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service Monday, concerns bovine brucellosis. The disease causes abortion or reduced calving rates, mastitis and an illness called undulant fever, which can be transmitted from infected cattle to man. The quarantine would shut down almost all interstate movement and sales of beef and dairy cattle from the state. It would cover all cattle, including those not infected with the disease, Seeligson said. James O. Lee, Jr., acting APHIS administrator, told the Texas Animal Health Commission that if the legislation isn't passed, the only viable option available to his department would be to "impose and enforce a quarantine of the state of Texas." "TAHC supports SB 936 and HB 701, introduced by state Sen. Bob Glasgow, D-Stephenville, and state Rep. Bruce Gibson, D-Godley, to make those (CONT. ON PAGE 4A)

ICA's Wheeler Says USDA Letter Idle Threat, Scare Tactic

The recent USDA/APHIS threat to quarantine Texas cattle from interstate movement was dismissed as "just a political threat with little true backing" by Independent Cattlemen's Association President Roy Wheeler. Minutes before adjournment of Monday's Texas Animal Health Commission meeting, a letter from Dr. James O. Lee, Jr., Acting Director of USDA/APHIS, was dramatically unveiled. It was interpreted by TAHC officials as a threat of a federal quarantine if the state legislature does not approve HB 701 and SB 936 which give state bureaucrats even more power over the administration of the brucellosis program. Wheeler called on legislators to ignore the letter. "It is highly significant that the letter (CONT. ON PAGE 4A) servation Institute that cattle dealers removal of brucellosis tags to enable cows to be sold as "local fresh" animals resulted in deceit and confusion. LCI's board of directors agreed that the practice should be halted and recommended the APHIS rewrite Regulation 7118 to prohibit removal of the tags.

was signed by a career bureaucrat who stands to benefit most from the program's expansion," Wheeler pointed out.

"Remember, President Reagan's official budget for the last two years has called for the phasing out of the Federal Brucellosis Program," Wheeler continued, "one bureaucrat cannot overturn the President's budget. For the letter to have been meaningful it needed to carry the signature of the Secretary of Agriculture, or at least the Deputy Assistant Secretary."

Wheeler noted the letter had been delivered by plane over the weekend without Deputy Assistant Secretary (in charge of the APHIS brucellosis program) John Ford's knowledge. It was a clandestine orchestrated event for Texas political reasons, Wheeler stated.

"I am diametrically disappointed with USDA taking this action. In the past several months we have worked in good faith trying to increase research to find the real answer to the brucellosis problem. At a recent conference here in Austin, a USDA spokesman from the Secretary's level had assured us that a quarantine 'was not in the works.' In addition, with the knowledge that the President's budget position continues to ask for phase-out of the program, I just can't get too concerned over this mysterious letter."

"It is just an idle threat...a scare tactic. This is not taking steps to finding solutions for ranchers who are working to control brucellosis. It does not take steps toward cutting the outrageous $100 million state and federal taxes spent to support an unworkable program. And, certainly, it does not take steps to reduce the unnecessary expenses and harassment that the program creates for Texas ranchers."

McKellar Ranch Spring Sale Set For May 7

Mt. Pleasant, Texas—The McKellar Ranch Annual Spring Red Brahman Production Sale will be held May 7, 1983. Lunch will be at 11:00 a.m. with the sale at 12:00 noon at the ranch at Mt. Pleasant, Texas.

Selling will be 26 bred donor heifers, 6 bred donor cows, 20 fancy bred. Removal of the tags prevents identification of the true origin of animals and thus makes it impossible to trace them back to the herds of origin. Erasing the history of animals in this manner creates problems in combatting the disease. LCI reported: "A letter should be prepared to go to APHIS suggesting the need for rewriting Regulation 7118 so as to prohibit the removal of ear tags or other identification put there for the purpose of identification to farm of origin. It would also encourage states to prohibit stripping tags in interstate movement."

Nebraska Livestock Dealer Fined For Illegal Shipment

Richard R. Bowen, veterinarian in charge in Nebraska for USDA's Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service, said a magistrate of the U.S. District Court, Omaha, Neb., found Bowen guilty on March 9 of shipping brucellosis exposed calves without a permit from the Hutchinson, Kansas, stockyards to the stockyards at Superior.

Bowen explained that federal animal health regulations prohibit the interstate movement of brucellosis reactors or exposed cattle without a permit. In addition, such movements are permitted only for immediate slaughter or to a quarantined feedlot. The interstate movement of brucellosis reactors or exposed cattle from one livestock market to another livestock market for any purpose is prohibited. The illegal movement occurred July 10, 1981.

Cattlemen Take Industry Views To Washington

Washington, April 19.—Taxes, agricultural appropriations and beef exports were among the subjects discussed by cattlemen in recent meetings with their members of Congress.

The visits to Capitol Hill were part of the National Cattlemen's Assn. annual spring board meeting in Washington. Present in addition to NCA directors were NCA committee chairmen and vice chairmen and executive officers of affiliated associations.

Issues of importance to the cattle industry also were covered in sessions with officials of U.S. Department of Agriculture agencies, Department of Interior, Office of Special Trade Representative and other executive branch agencies. Board members and other cattlemen met with such top officials as Agriculture Secretary John Block, Interior Secretary James Watt, Ambassador William Brock (Office of Special Trade Representative) and Federal Reserve Board Chairman Paul Volcker.

Some 200 cattlemen spread out through the halls of Congress and the agencies to outline NCA positions on major issues and to discuss first hand various problems involved with government regulations affecting the cattle industry. This annual event in Washington, putting working cattlemen in direct touch with their own lawmakers, is one reason for the effectiveness of NCA and its affiliated associations in the nation's capital, said W.J. (Dub) Waldrip, NCA president.

Here are some of the issues and topics discussed with legislative and regulatory officials: Government Fiscal Policies. Cattlemen supported maintaining provisions of the 1981 tax legislation to be reduced in order to help improve the economy and reduce real interest rates; deficit reductions should come through across-the-board limits on government spending.

Agricultural Appropriations. Within the tighter agricultural budgets, there should be adequate research—including integrated reproduction management programs, range research and animal health research. The brucellosis program should be funded at a lower level than in the past year but a higher level than first proposed for fiscal 1984.

legislative issues discussed were immigration reform legislation (including provisions affecting foreign nationals in agriculture); changes in the wild horse laws to make possible limits on wild horse populations; and natural gas deregulation, which can help lower costs of fertilizer, irrigation, etc.

Beef Exports. Pressure needs to be maintained by U.S. trade officials in efforts to get Japan to liberalize its market for beef. U.S. trade officials feel that progress can be made.

Dietary Advice. USDA's Human Nutrition Information Service indicated that it was naming a committee of scientists to review the government Dietary Guidelines.

Natural Resources. Several issues in the natural resource and environmental areas—such as ag chemicals, grazing fees, and programs affecting both private and public land use—were covered by the cattlemen.

Safety of Beef. Meat inspection and other programs related to safety of beef were discussed.

Transportation. New regulations on truck weights and lengths and

Commodities Comment

Week Ending April 21, 1983 April continues to appear as a crucial month for futures prices. Nearly all markets are very volatile and sharp price movements are the order of the day. This is true for grains, metals, livestock and interest rates. Price action similar to what we have been witnessing shows just how nervous these markets are. And when markets are nervous — it's generally "bearish." If April is indeed a pivotal month for prices, then all you commodity traders out there better be careful!

The grains have remained locked for several weeks in their trading range. Bidding comes into the market on weakness due to the bullishness of the FIK program and the wet spring we are experiencing. There is very little new news to add to the grain picture. I continue to see the long side of new crop beans and meal. Most grains will meet good buying support on price set-backs. The weather will be the main bullish force at work over the near term. The direction of interest rates will also play a part in determining where prices are headed. Buy the break at 40.00 writing July beans closed at $8.43, July corn $8.10, July wheat $3.54.

The Mercantile Exchange is in the midst of one of the most severe price breaks I have seen in years. The cattle market has broken nearly $5 in 7 trading days. And hogs have fallen $3 during the same time period. I mentioned several weeks ago that the cattle market was in for a sharp sell-off from the $71 level back June and it's now a fact. Hogs and bellies should begin their seasonal up-move soon but June hogs may hit $48 to $49 before moving higher. Hedgers and speculators should sell all livestock on rallies into the summer. At this writing June cattle closed at $68.40, June hogs $50.02 and July bellies $68.00.

The precious metal markets have been in the midst of sharp rallies. This was to be expected after the sharp sell-off in late February. I mentioned that palladium and platinum should lead the metals (gold and silver) higher and they have. The metal markets appear to be very nervous and searching for direction. At current levels I believe another sell-off is coming. Crude oil prices appear to be heading lower again and interest rates may have stabilized over the near term. Both of these things could cause a sharp break in metal prices. At this writing June palladium closed at $124.85, June gold $489, June silver $12.18, and June platinum $424.00.

Which way from here? I have been dragging my feet on being a "bull" on anything and so far I'm only partially correct. Grains and livestock are in the midst of a sharp break but the Dow, metals and interest rates have worked substantially higher. April has the marks of a pivotal month. I feel that new markets will hit their peak this month before a sharp slide ensues. I'll stick by that forecast. I don't want to be a "bull" in any market for the next several weeks. I like the short side of most everything for the near term.

If you would like further information on speculation or hedging please call Jerry F. Welch at 814-721-8200, Prudential-Bache Securities, 281 St. Barnston, Suite 1400, St. Louis, MO 63105.

HOWARD WEEMPE, MGR.

Committee member Jerome Friemel, a Hereford farmer, told the group that the grain pool would work as a marketing agency to promote Texas grain products nationally and internationally.

Committee member June Saylor, national president of Women Involved in Farm Economics, discussed the 1982 Agricultural Balance Sheet for the United States and Texas.

Mrs. Saylor told the committee the nation lost $144 billion in tax revenue last year because United States agriculture was not at parity.

The committee was formed to advise the Governor and the Agriculture Commissioner on the effects of federal agricultural policy and notify the two state officials when their intervention is needed. The committee will also propose new ideas for state and federal policies that would benefit Texas producers.

The group will serve as a direct link between state government and the agricultural community throughout Texas.

Its 28 members represent a broad spectrum of agriculture and agribusiness in Texas.

Members of the committee include Jerry Bailey, a Hill County farmer and rancher; Joe Chapa, Sr., Hidalgo County rancher; Lester Crane, Colorado County Judge and rice farmer from Columbus; Jerome Friemel, Hereford farmer; John Gayle, Brazoria County Commissioner, farmer and rancher; Cathy Jo Harman, farmer from Baytown; Jim Hutchins, agribusiness representative from Estelline; David Jenkins, Chambers County rice farmer; and Cal King, Dimmitt farmer and president of the Texas Corn Growers Association.

Also on the committee are Du Kubiak, a Rockdale rancher, 14-year veteran of the Texas House of Representatives and president of the Texas Alcohol Producers Association; Mike Levi, Spicewood rancher; Susan McBee, assistant to the Governor and former state representative from Del Rio; Mike Mueller, Hays County farmer and president of the Texas Farmers Union (TFU); Jay Naman, Westlake rancher and former TPJ president; Tom Perry, Robstown farmer and rancher; Joe Rankin, Falls farmer and TPJ vice president; Ralph Roming, Davis farmer; June Saylor of Mulhouse, founder of Women Involved in Farm Economics; and Doug Seal of Washington, president of the Texas Agricultural Caucus and a member of the State Democratic Executive Committee.

Federal Land Bank Lowers Interest Rates

Other members are Ralph Sides of Childress; farmers Jack Stallings of El Paso and Bob Surratt of Clint; Quash farmer Wiley Tabor, former president of the Texas Wheat Growers Association; S.M. True, Plainview farmer and president of the Texas Farm Bureau; Wayne Wilber, a Winnie rice farmer; and Kit Worley, Thorndale farmer and fertilizer dealer.

The adjustments follow reductions made earlier this year. Benson said. On January 1, 1983, the Bank's interest rate on farm and ranch loans was lowered to 11.25 percent. The interest rate for rural residences and farm-related business loans was lowered to 11.75 percent. Bank closed loan fees subsequently were reduced on February 25, 1983 from 4 to 2 percent on farm and ranch loans and from 7 to 4 percent on rural residence and farm-related business loans. The fee reduction was made possible, said Benson, by the decrease in the Bank's cost of funds.

The Federal Land Bank of Texas makes long-term real estate loans throughout the state through its 66 Federal Land Bank Associations. The Bank currently has $2.4 billion in loans outstanding.

Texas Feed Grain Stocks 52% Higher

Austin - Record corn stocks helped push the Texas total stocks of the four major feed grains - corn, oats, barley and sorghum - to 9.1 million metric tons, an increase of 52 percent from a year ago.

According to figures released by the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service, total corn stocks in all positions reached 187.6 million bushels, 29 percent above last year and a record for April.

Total sorghum stocks of 121.9 million cwt. were 78 percent above a year ago. State Statistician Doug Murfield reported that April sorghum stocks were the largest since 1969.

"Stocks of most commodities are up from the previous year, as reduced worldwide demand has failed to keep pace with the increases in production," Murfield reported.

Wheat stocks in all positions are at a record 167.5 million bushels, up 66 percent from last year. While farm stocks have dropped 21 percent from 1982, off-farm wheat stocks have reached a new record high.

Murfield reported that soybean stocks have tripled since a year ago to 10.2 million bushels, while barley stocks have increased 6 percent to 264,000

changes in the brucellosis law. "Today, cattlemen in Texas face severe restrictions on movement of cattle out of state as a result of the inability to conform to the new federal regulations on bovine brucellosis. The cost of this curtailment, in times of drought, could be as much as $80 to $100 million dollars per year to the industry," Seelgion, a San Antonio cattleman, said.

"The new brucellosis law must be enacted if we are to avoid this economic impact. The quarantine and equally restrictive import regulations by other states can be avoided if the new bill is enacted this session. TSCRA strongly supports the passage of the new law."

The greatest negative impact will be on commercial cattle operators if the bill fails to pass, Seelgion emphasized. Texas exports about two million head of cattle and calves per year.

Under quarantine, all heifers and bulls over six months of age must come from a herd which has had two completely negative tests 120 days apart, the last test having been done within 30 days of movement. All certified free herds lose their status unless tested three times a year.

Glass has a great resistance to crushing pressure. Its strength is greater than that of granite, concrete, clay brick, or even cast iron.

The restricted movement of show cattle exhibited in the state's major livestock shows because of the quarantine would reduce or eliminate such shows as Houston, Fort Worth, San Antonio, Dallas and El Paso. The loss in state revenues would be many millions of dollars per year, Seelgion warned.

With the quarantine, the two-compartment plan for Texas, where West Texas has greater freedom of cattle movement than East Texas with its higher rate of infection, would be lost. All Texas cattle would have the same restrictions under the quarantine.

"The prospect of a federal quarantine or equivalent state curtailment of cattle movement poses an enormous burden for Texas cattlemen and consumers, but this impact can be avoided completely if the new brucellosis legislation is enacted in the present session," Seelgion reiterated.

AVOID CHANGING WELL LEATHERS FOR MANY YEARS
Perma-cups are molded urethane, more wear resistant than nylon. Perma-cups will outlast leathers 10 to 1. Their tapered design allows only 1/8" wear, instead of 5/8" of a leather. Much less friction for easier pumping extends cylinder life greatly. Perma-cups must be used in a good or new cylinder, as they do not swell, install Urethane Perma-cups, Urethane Check-balls, and Urethane Pump Rod-guides, and don't pull that wait for many years. Thousands are in wells that have not been relined in 9 years! All are available in standard cylinder and pipe sizes. Write or call for our catalog. We ship same day order is received. This is our 33rd year serving ranchers.

court decision by the TAHC which has kept it from enforcing regulations. Some folks consider this a silly threat. Some folks consider the whole program even sillier and some of the regulations that have been tried in the past certainly are evidence of shallow thinking.

However, the native independence of cattle folks surfaces with more than a little anger at the idea of having Federal bureaucrats dictate what they can and can not do. This raises some serious questions. Very, very serious questions. To start with we should realize that Texas, Texas and Texas huge cattle numbers have been thorns in the sides of other cattle producing states since the Longhorns first carried fever ticks into Kansas.

Train loads of Texas cattle shipped to the Onaga and Flint Hills often found bad markets at summer's end and went into feedlots and gave Cornbelt feed cattle unwanted competition. Cornbelt feeders called them "those outlaw cattle". It is well to keep in mind that cattle raisers in many states would like to see Texas cattle embargoed or quarantined to get them out of their hair. Their animal health commissions are aware of this and many of them are itching to shut down Texas shipments to their states.

To say that the Govt. can not slap a quarantine on Texas cattle is to refuse to face facts. The economic disaster this would bring down on Texas is easily understood and when we recall that cattle and calf sales in Texas generate more money for agriculture than any other crop. Last year, not a good one, the sum was right at $4 billion, not counting the additional billions worth of business allied with cattle and calves and their products and those things that go into this huge business.

Given the racism of competitors of Texas cattle and beef that is all concealed in other beef states and the political ramifications connected with the competitive nature of the business, waving red flags at 'em could be very bad judgement indeed. As the lead story on this page points out a quarantine would affect a great many businesses and enterprises.

It appears to us that right now is a very good time to cool it and also a very good time to embrace a vaccination program, if for no other reason than simple self-defense. Ever think, The Editor.

P.S. Uncle Dunk says any horse that had a track record as bad as those politicians who run on a platform of No New Taxes, would have long since gone to the glue factory or the packing house. Texas Gov. Mark White said earlier on that he had no aversion to Sin Taxes, but according to reports he, now thinks a gasoline tax might not be a bad idea. Dunk says he figures it don't take much mental elasticity for a politician to figure there is some amount of sin occurs in automobiles, at that. — Thassell, Brothers!

PIK Disposition Date Extension Possible
 Washington — U.S. Senator Roger W. Jepsen (R-Iowa) announced today that the Department of Agriculture has extended the final disposition date for crops entered into the PIK Program. On April 6, 1983, Senator Jepsen wrote to Secretary of Agriculture John Block requesting this extension. In his letter the Iowa Republican explained that an extension of 30 days or longer would not only keep conservation cover on the fields, but would preserve wildlife through the nesting season. "Being a wildlife enthusiast and conservationist," Jepsen said, "I am extremely pleased with this decision. The extension is available on a nationwide basis and farmers must individually file a request for extension with the local or state ASCS office. In addition, the farmer must pay the cost for ASCS to examine the field to ensure that the crops are not harvested for sale." The extension applies only to small grains, such as oats, wheat, barley, and rice.

Judge Rules In Favor Of California On Beef Promotion

An assessment on out of state beef shipments into California was ruled constitutional April 21 by U.S. District Court Judge, Raul Ramirez in Sacramento. In a 90 page written decision, Judge Ramirez ruled on behalf of the defendants and denied relief from the law which was sought by the plaintiffs.

"The California Beef Council (CBC) is pleased with the decision of the court and we believe this will lead to an equitable way of promoting beef in California. Now all those who share in the benefit of a California marketing program will share in its funding," said Jane Anderson, CBC executive manager.

The suit questioned California law which imposes an assessment on boxed beef, chilled carcasses, and bone beef shipped into California. This assessment is equivalent and does not exceed the current $1 per head fee placed on cattle in California.

The out of state portion of the law was never in effect because of the lawsuit. According to the California Department of Food and Agriculture, it will proceed with implementing the regulations to collect funds from out of state packers. The $1 a head for live cattle within California has been collected since February, 1982, when AH became law.

The funds collected are for the C program. The legislated responsibilities of the CRC are to implement programs in the areas of promotion, research, education and public information.

Cotton Leads Drop In Crop Sales

Texas farmers got about $800 million less from crop sales last year compared to 1981, with cotton sales taking the sharpest nosedive—from $1.4 billion to $375 million. Estimated crop sales totaled almost $3.8 billion in 1982 but were down due to poor prices caused by huge stockpiles of most farm commodities, together with sagging domestic demand and depressed export prices, says an economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A.M. University System. Also, weather losses were heavy in some areas, particularly in the South Plains. Grain sorghum was the second leading cash crop with receipts of $619 million followed by wheat at $499 million.

COMPLETE DISPERSION

Monday - MAY 16, 1983 - London, Ark.

I-40 Exit at London, on US 64, 1 Mile West, 1 Mile North

Since 1944, for going on 40 years, we have designed our breeding program to meet, and actually anticipate, the changing needs of the beef industry. Today the herd is on target with the kind of performance that is in demand — over 80 percent of our herd has MBVs of 100 or more and the average age of the cow herd is only six-years-old. This is top performance in young cattle — a great foundation opportunity.

West Kansas Feedlots
Dodge City, Apr. 22 (USDA) - Slaughter steers 1.00-1.25 lower; slaughter heifers .50-1.00 lower. Downward price pressure developed following the "Cattle on Feed" report which influenced a lower "Futures" market and subsequently a lower dressed beef trade. A standard emerged as cattle feeders evaluated their small numbers of market ready cattle, relatively light weights and small numbers for next weeks "Show List". Sun and wind most of the period helped dry feedlots and promoted good weight gains. Feedlots remained current despite relatively light movement.
